

The Daily Courant.

Friday, January 7 1704

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Jan. 3.

Turin, December 17.

THE Inhabitants of this City have agreed to give his Royal Highness our Duke 250000 Livres, and have promis'd to furnish the like Sum at the opening of the next Campaign.

Signior Marcello Gamba a Merchant, and Signior Stoppa a Jeweller, are sent by the Duke to Genoa, to take up a certain Sum of Money on some of his Royal Highness's Jewels. On the 15th an Edict was publish'd, commanding all Soldiers who were unjustly seiz'd and disarm'd by the French at San Benedetto, and have since found means to escape, to repair to certain Places of Rendezvous mention'd in the Edict, on pain of being punish'd as Deserters. His Royal Highness having taken a View of the Fortifications of this City, has order'd the Artillery planted on two Bulwarks facing the Po, to be drawn off and put into the Magazine for the present, till there shall be occasion to send them to Chieri or Alba where 'tis apprehended they may be soonest wanted. Yesterday four Pieces of Cannon were sent from hence to Chieri. By an Express from Genoa we have Advice, that the King of France having publish'd a Declaration of War against our Duke, has in consequence of it prohibited all Correspondence and Commerce with the Subjects of his Royal Highness, and has caus'd all the Effects of our Merchants that are in their Factor's Hands in France, and particularly at Lyons, to be seiz'd: Whereupon Orders were immediately sent from hence to stop the Goods that were on the Road from hence to Lyons.

Dresden, Dec. 26. The Advices from Poland tell us, that the Swedes have taken down the largest Bells out of the Steeples of Thorn, which they have offer'd to Sale to the highest Bidder. They insist upon it that the Inhabitants of Elbing pay them 600000 Florins Contributions; and have oblig'd the Clergy of that Town, to pray in the Churches for his Swedish Majesty and the Prosperity of his Arms; And 'tis generally believ'd that King will reside there all the Winter. Other Letters inform us, that most of the Senators and the great Treasurer Lubomirski are retir'd from Jawarow in Discontent. The Field-Marshal of the Army of the Crown, and the Great Treasurer, insist upon it absolutely as a Condition of their continuing firm to his Polish Majesty's Interest, that his said Majesty without further delay, give Orders for the Saxon Troops he has about Cracow to depart the Kingdom. They assure us likewise that the Cardinal Primate appears to be dissatisfied again with his Polish Majesty.

Brunswick, Dec. 28. The English Envoy Mr. Pooley, is gone from Hanover to Zell, to make a Visit to the Duke of that Name, accompanied by several English Gentlemen. The King of Poland having acknowledg'd the Arch-Duke Charles to be King of Spain, his Resident at Berlin is order'd to notify the same to his Prussian Majesty. The last Letters from Poland tell us, that the King and the Field-Marshal of the Army of the Crown are reconcil'd; and that his Majesty has determin'd to go from Jawarow to Cracow. A certain Swedish Baron, whose Name is Spar, and who is a Brigadier in the Service of the King of France, is come to Berlin. The Town has already paid the Swedes 300000 Rix-dollars. The Letters brought by the last Post from Vienna, give a less formidable Account of the Hungarian Rebels than those which came by the former Post; They promise themselves mighty Success from the great Ability of Prince Eugene, not doubting but he will either bring about an Accommodation amicably, or by some vigorous Exploit in the Field, reduce the Malecontents to such Straits, that in a little time they will be glad to submit to any Terms. There is a Report at Vienna, that the Princess Ragotski is carried Prisoner to Gratz in Stiria; and that there was found in her Closet a Letter from a Minister of France to the Prince her Husband. They are raising Men with all Expedition in Sweden, to be transported to Dantzick next Spring; but finding Volunteers come in but very slowly, they Press Men by force into the Service; which occasions heavy Murmuring among the meaner sort of People; the more, because Sweden is at present not over-stock'd with Men.

London, Jan. 6. An Express arriv'd this Morning with Advice, that the Fleet commanded by Sir George Rooke, having on board the King of Spain, set sail for Lisbon yesterday at 4 a Clock in the Afternoon.
